

In honour of the Supreme Leader of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, Kim Jong Un

Lausanne, September 19th 2012

Supreme and Dear Commander of the Korean People's Army, Supreme Leader of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, Kim Jong Un,

Would you be so kind as to accept, Supreme and Dear Commander of the Korean People's Army and Supreme Leader of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, this modest gift, a symbol of my country, in the form of this chocolate Toblerone, as well as this piece of rock which I personally brought back when I climbed the Matterhorn in your honour on August 21th 2012, together with a detailed fact sheet and a certificate in my name to prove this ascent.

I can barely express my appreciation and gratitude for such a wonderful opportunity. It will indeed be an enormous honour for me to be received in your fascinating and beautiful country, which I am greatly looking forward to visiting.

With my most sincere and heartfelt thanks, Supreme and Dear Commander of the Korean People's Army, Supreme Leader of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, Kim Jong Un.

Yours most respectfully,

Olivier Racine
